"Tell me and I forget, teach me and I may remember, involve me and I learn"

Benjamin Franklin

Dear CloudKasthiram winner,

Thank you for joining in for the virtual hands on workshop on Google Cloud technologies. We believe that you have gained much knowledge from this challenge as well as the fun you had completing it. This letter accompanies a small reward for the hard work you did. You truly earned it.

In an uncertain and volatile time, it is heartwarming to see that you have focused and decided to learn new things. We wish you all the best in your future learning.

Keep doing cool things that matter.
